SWIFT ARRESTED ON COMMON; PUT IN CELL

"LEADER OF THE 'EMPLOYED' CHARGED WITH VIOLATING CITY ORDINANCE.

Morrison I. Swift, Socialist leader and author, who has been talking to the Boston unemployed for two weeks or more, was arrested on Boston Common at 12 o'clock today. A crowd of 250 men and women were gathered around him when he was taken to the city hall. He was charged with violating a city ordinance which forbids the use of the common for political purposes. Swift was taken to the city hall and put in a cell. He was released after a hearing at 10 o'clock today.

Cuts Out Insanity Experts, and Rests on Such Evidence Produced by the Defence. Slayer's Fate with Jury To-morrow.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. Harry K. Thaw's fate will be in the hands of the jury some time to-morrow. The State's case in rebuttal is practically complete.

Barring completion of the reading of the testimony given by Abe Hummel at the first trial, which was in progress when luncheon recess was ordered, all of Jerome's witnesses have been called. Ten were quickly disposed of this forenoon. They were eyewitnesses of the Madison Square Garden tragedy and policemen who saw Thaw immediately after the killing of White, and all declared Thaw at that time impressed them as perfectly rational.

Jerome did not call any insanity experts, and Jerome's case rests on the evidence produced by the defence.

What One Advertisement In Sunday American Did

This picture shows what one advertisement in the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN did in drawing patrons to a store. The picture was taken soon after the advertisement appeared, and at the time of the opening of Macdonnell's store in the Tremont temple building. The crowd pictured, which blocked the sidewalk, was the advance guard of the army of customers that besieged the store all day. This crowd has continued since. The advertisement called attention to reduced prices as a preliminary to facing stock on Friday next, to be followed by an offering of new goods.

Cardinal Gibbons Extends Greetings to People of Boston

HEAD OF CATHOLIC CHURCH IN AMERICA IS HERE TO PRESENT PALLIUM.

James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, head of the Roman Catholic Church in this country, is in Boston today, the first of Archbishop William H. O'Connor, upon whom he will confer the pallium, the most distinctive feature of episcopal office.

In an exclusive interview with a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter, the cardinal expressed his growing and increasing interest in the people of this city. "I am proud to be here for an episcopal ceremony," he said, "to officiate at what is rightly reckoned the greatest of all ceremonies that can be held in this country."

Lunches With Gov. Gould. The cardinal is expected to have a luncheon with Governor Gould at his residence today. During the stay in the city he will receive the cathedral of the Holy Cross, which is the cathedral of the city.

Accompanied by his secretary, Rev. Louis O'Hara, the cardinal is expected to travel in the city this evening. He will be met by the Hon. Charles F. Johnson, mayor of Boston, and a number of other officials, and will be accompanied to the cathedral by the Hon. Charles F. Johnson, mayor of Boston, and a number of other officials.

At 10 o'clock he will be met by the Hon. Charles F. Johnson, mayor of Boston, and a number of other officials, and will be accompanied to the cathedral by the Hon. Charles F. Johnson, mayor of Boston, and a number of other officials.

Impressive Ceremony. The cardinal is expected to officiate at a most impressive ceremony at the cathedral of the Holy Cross, which is the cathedral of the city.

Cardinal Gibbons extended his congratulations to the people of Boston, and expressed his growing and increasing interest in the people of this city.

DETROIT PRESIDENT SAYS TY COBB WILL GET NO SPECIAL PRIVILEGES

Rebe Waddell, the well-known diarist of the Philadelphia Athletics, began the task of putting off ten pounds for the weight of Mike Schreck in seven days before the going starts next Friday night, for his ten round go with Tom Lutz.

Word comes from Detroit that Naxin, a new head of the Detroit Tigers, will not take a determined stand against the demand of Tyus Cobb, the champion batsman of the American League, who finished the season of 1937, with the splendid average .361. Mr. Naxin says that Cobb will tion on fire and led the league in hitting. Hemphill had one hitting stretch in which he went thirty in a straight game, and it was one managed to get one or more hits. Mike Seid of Louisville succeeded in breaking Hemphill's record in the first game of a double-header. In the second game he made two hits and then went on to more games in which he secured one or more hits in every contest. Hemphill,

HARRY LEWIS WILL MEET BILL PAPKE

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 28. (Harris)—While quick knockout of Frank Mantell was claimed the featherweight champion through stopping Honey Melloy, he managed him a match with Billy Pape, a rugged Irish Strangler of the National Athletic club of this city has closed with the fight for the night, and Pape has also won a prize of $100. The fight took place in Philadelphia in three weeks. Pape will be going away ten pounds to Pape, but he says he is to go only six pounds, a distance at which Lewis is a favorite. Pape is confident he will be able to stop Pape. Pape is a rusher, a swinging fighter, and will endeavor to carry the name to Lewis. The latter is a boxer, and will fight a defensive fight to win on counters alone. The fight is 12 rounds at 4 o'clock, which will be a long fight. Lewis is making Pape's house, figure. Lewis can make.

In the event of striking the six rounds with Pape, Lewis will go to the coast and fight a match with Pape.

... authorities will make such dangerous claims that it will be even dangerous to come to give a car any distance. It will seem as though great assistance will be given the authorities if the motorists felt themselves in duty bound to only a short to all dangerous work, the part of another, but to make it himself upon himself to bring the matter to the attention of those who are in a position to give unto the offender that which is his real due.

Edward Marmion, designer and manufacturer of the car bearing his name, is spending a few days in this city as the guest of the American Automobile Club. Frank P. Morgan, Max Marmion's brother, returned on an extensive tour on the European continent, and he has a number of interesting reports the prospect of the foreign market. Visiting both the French and English markets, he saw many things of interest and was particularly interested in the new developments in the automobile industry. Nothing was suggested to him as to change the engine of the Marmion. No Marmion ever had a car with a V-8 engine. The master of the Savannah loved races, as the company believed in building a car for speed. The Marmion was a car that was delivered to make a reputation on what is called a special car run in a road contest. It was a car that was a real winner.

The New York taxidermy has come to station. Two of these now being housed at the home of the Massachusetts Automobile Club on Baylson street. While here the skins are being used by private individuals, it is hoped to so interest that they may see the advantages of taking hold of the plans of the New York company and bring about the establishment of a taxidermy in this city.

You want to go anywhere any time, speedily, safely and comfortably without fuss or needless expense.

You want all the power you can use, and plenty of room but not useless power to waste and to pay for, nor excessive weight that only makes operating cost.

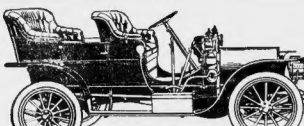

Franklins are powerful, capacious and full of style; and the strongest, most comfortable of automobiles; but they have no useless over-weight; no heavy complicated plumbing; no stiff steel frame to jar the passengers and interfere with power.

They give you all you want without making you pay for what you don't want.

TAKE A WALK WITH WESTON

Boys and Men Are Invited to Join the E. P. Weston Walking Club and Get the Habit of Sane, Moderate, Healthful Outdoor Exercise

Edward Payson Weston, the veteran walker, will be at the head of an interesting procession in this city next Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Weston has been engaged to interest young boys and old boys also in quiet, healthful outdoor walks.

The walks, with Mr. Weston at the head, will be a feature of life in this neighborhood for some time to come.

Our readers are invited to join the Edward Payson Weston walking club, and to find out for themselves what good fun and good exercise may be found in reasonable walking—especially when a crowd of cheerful human beings go out together.

Mr. Weston has already engaged in this kind of enterprise in New York, and naturally is well qualified to carry out the idea in a REAL AND BIG way, with the support of a REAL AND BIG evening newspaper. Therefore Mr. Weston will devote time and patience to our readers, young and old, giving advice, writing on sane, healthful athletics, going on sensible walks of moderate length with our readers, and generally helping to interest all in outdoor fun.

Walking batons will be distributed free to the boys who join the first walk, and also to the men—if there are enough batons to go around, and we think there will be enough.

Fathers who can do so are advised to walk with their boys. All will be welcome. Wear ordinary clothes, good, simple walking shoes—have them BIG ENOUGH, above all.

Take along your overcoat, walk with it on your arm, and put it on when the walk is over.

Read about the details from day to day and join in the walk NEXT SATURDAY AFTERNOON, if you possibly can.

You will find it amusing, healthful, inspiring.

Attacking the Union Label

(FROM THE BROCKTON ENTERPRISE)

ORGANIZED labor is doing one of the things that discredit it in the estimation of fair minded people in indulging the "strike" of newshybs against a Boston evening paper that has increased the wholesale price of its product.

The newshybs are not employed by the paper, and their wages haven't been cut, because they don't work on a salary.

They are simply merchants who sell goods they buy, and if they don't care to sell the newspaper in question at a reduced price they have a perfect right not to handle it—and equally no right whatever to attempt to lead others from selling it.

It is a grim comment on the situation that the paper they are trying to hurt, with the moral backing of some labor unions made up of adults who ought to know better, is produced by union labor in every department and has been famous for its editorial advocacy and support of men and measures approved by the working people.

One Way to Unite Reform for Both Parties

BY PAUL THIEMAN

It is remarkable to learn that, after all, it makes no difference what New York does in national politics, or what is thought in Washington, because the candidates and platforms of both parties will be determined by the West. The West rules politically. If an Eastern or Southern man is nominated by either party it will be because the West wants him. Not even a combination of the East and South could prevail against the trans-Allegheny United States.

However, Washington is a political city. During the session of Congress it is dominated by persons who make a profession or business of politics. And they come from all parts of the land.

The chief topic of conversation is politics. The chief interest is politics. The thoughts of thousands of intelligent persons are directed on the subject all the time. It is almost impossible to escape politics in Washington. All thinking persons find themselves forced to think about it. Instead of references to the weather, the conventional remark is, "What do you think of Taft's chances on the first ballot?" or "Do you think the Democratic party can avoid nominating Bryan?" or "What is your honest opinion of Hughes?" With such a general interchange of ideas the political currents in Washington cannot be treated in the contemptuous way the Western states at New York city politics.

And the real vital thing is the indifferent visible in the capital, because the indifference of sentiment prefigures the future general current.

The smart and alert members of Congress, the grave and careful Senators, the men of political acumen, have two distinct attitudes at this time. One is when they talk for publication, or with persons with whom they are not well acquainted. The other is when they express their down-dust sentiment.

There are several of these sincere undercurrents. One is the Republican who is vigorously reactionary against the Roosevelt policy. Another is the Republican who favors the reaction and to whom it presages disaster. Another is the Democrat who wishes to overthrow what he calls Oklahoma Democracy, and who is anxious to rally all the so-called conservative and reactionary forces to a revival of Cleveland Democracy on a tariff issue.

Another is the Democrat who wants to combine all the strong issues of reform Democracy and reform Republicanism.

These are distinctive and strong trends. Caught by these diverse currents, the ships of state or of both parties may be swung on political sandbars or sunk on political reefs.

Such being the situation, the Independence League movement grows wider and wider in importance as the channel for Republicans and Democrats whose most vital sentiments are in common and who deplore the reaction against popular Republican policies, and who cannot infer a Democracy swinging away from popular reforms and returning to Mugwumpism.

The thought is looming up that the Independence League has the opportunity to be at once the haven and battle-basis of the popular reforms, now menaced by the reactionaries, and that it will be the decisive factor against back-sliding in high places.

TAFT!

By James J. Montague

Hi! William H. Taft! You're out of the West With a triplicate chin and half-acre vest. And the brethren whose business is leaving their beams. Departed forthwith up their several haunches; While the king to his castle hied. Now, Taft, you're laughing. Was ever a winner like bully Bill Taft?

WHILE Taftbanks was posing as a new brooding hero. And fanning the air down to absolute zero. Came Taft with his beam and a howl and hurra. And Taftbanks sniped once and then faded away. And where that beam exploded. Heavens! still wait. A tail of vermouth on toward jolly old Taft!

THEN toward he whirled like a four cornered storm— To form—old Albany, scattering who's who's, commensurate and votes and debt. While Taftbanks with a beam snatched one of our dollars as he went. And he only just say in that grown-uppy with Taft.

SPECTER in the triumphs so easily won. This jaded, spectral man-of-guns. Gave a wink at the people, who add to the fact. Observed that they didn't pick rulers who weigh. But Judge if you can who it was that has you in his hand. It was William H. Taft!
